DEDICATION

The polished abstraction and the lofty phrase are commonplace in dedicatory remarks. But in the present case, the direct statement is more appropriate.

This book is dedicated to a man who believes that problems are best solved by a frontal attack of hard work. As a student at Catawba College he set his goals high, and then went to work to achieve them. He graduated with a high academic record, received the Best Athlete Award, and was presented the Whitener Medal as the outstanding male graduate.

His reputation as a resourceful worker followed him in his Navy years. It pursued him throughout his distinguished career as a high school baseball coach, during which time his teams won many honors, including a state championship. Accepting the challenge of a Salisbury veterans' organization, he carried its baseball team to state and regional championships.

In 1956 he came to Pfeiffer. Again he went to work. He manned pick and spade, pencil and telephone. Out of a North Campus bog emerged a beautiful athletic field, and out of a collection of untried youths he produced the best collegiate baseball organization in North Carolina. His record now stands at 67-16, with an impressive number of his proteges having found their way into professional baseball.

Of course we are proud of the record of our Director of Athletics. But more than this, we admire this man with the wry smile and modest demeanor who is quietly at work bringing to Pfeiffer the same mature approach to athletics that we have come to associate with its academic and administrative life. We pay tribute to this man to whom, as all his players know, the words "Play Ball!" actually mean "Get to Work!"

In appreciation of his hard work in our behalf, we proudly dedicate this book to

JOSEPH S. FEREBEE

Life on the Pfeiffer campus is made up of many individual experiences. These facets combine to create a great mosaic, with each experience lending its color to the entity, "Pfeiffer." The 1961 Chimes attempts to depict our recent experiences in these terms — as a pattern of pieces that are intensely individual, yet pieces which have a unique and special meaning as a whole.

Individuals, groups, events, and activities share in our impressions of this multi-colored mosaic. Perhaps this record will serve not only to recall people and events, but to evoke some comprehension of that larger experience, "Pfeiffer," in which each has had an integral part.

"Edward! Are you listening to me?"

Do you get your money back if you fail?

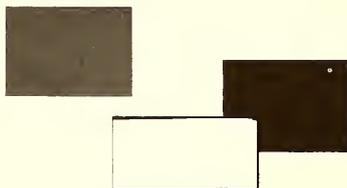

For this they drafted me out of college.

I wonder if this will pass for a book report.

Really? Mr. and Miss Bonehead English?

What do you mean?
I am smiling!

Afternoon.

This is the rush hour.

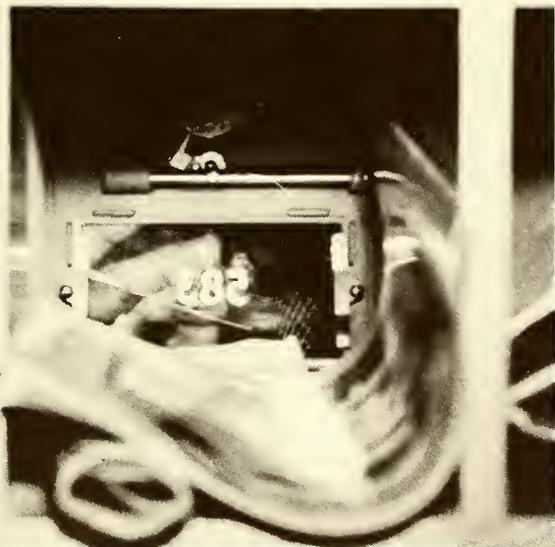

I don't care how low it is, I'm thirsty.

Piers the who?

Sorry, son.

Are you sure it's just my

Do you know how much that flashbulb cost ?

Hang on, Sandy, the next puddle is a deep one.

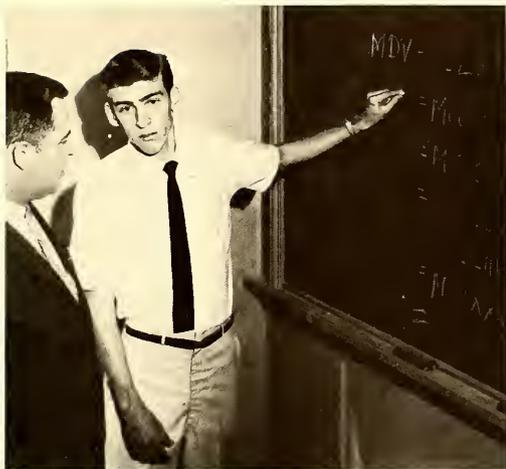

How much would that be in apples?

I will be a good girl.
I will be a good girl.
I will be a good girl.

No, Miss Endly, we haven't seen your cat.

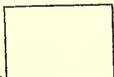

But according to Dr. Burson that would be XIV apples.

He just dismissed us. Something about cold coffee...

Which way to Catawba?

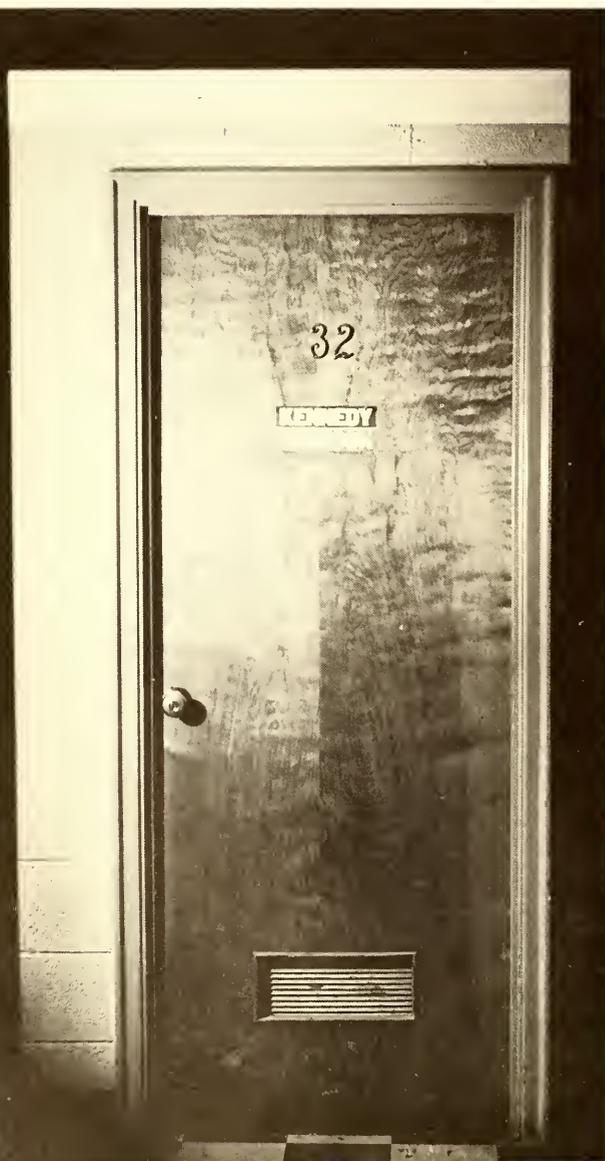

Weekend.

Thanks a lot.

I don't care if it is Friendship Week, five aces are too many!

Open the door, Richard.

Did you see that rag she was wearing?

...Don't worry. Your friend Bill has been coming over every night.

You have just fifteen seconds to produce another face card.

All Hail, Black and Gold!
Thy colors unfold.
For loyal sons and daughters,
With hearts so strong and bold!
Sing Hail, Pfeiffer College,
Thy strength never fail.
All Hail, Alma Mater,
To Thee, all Hail!

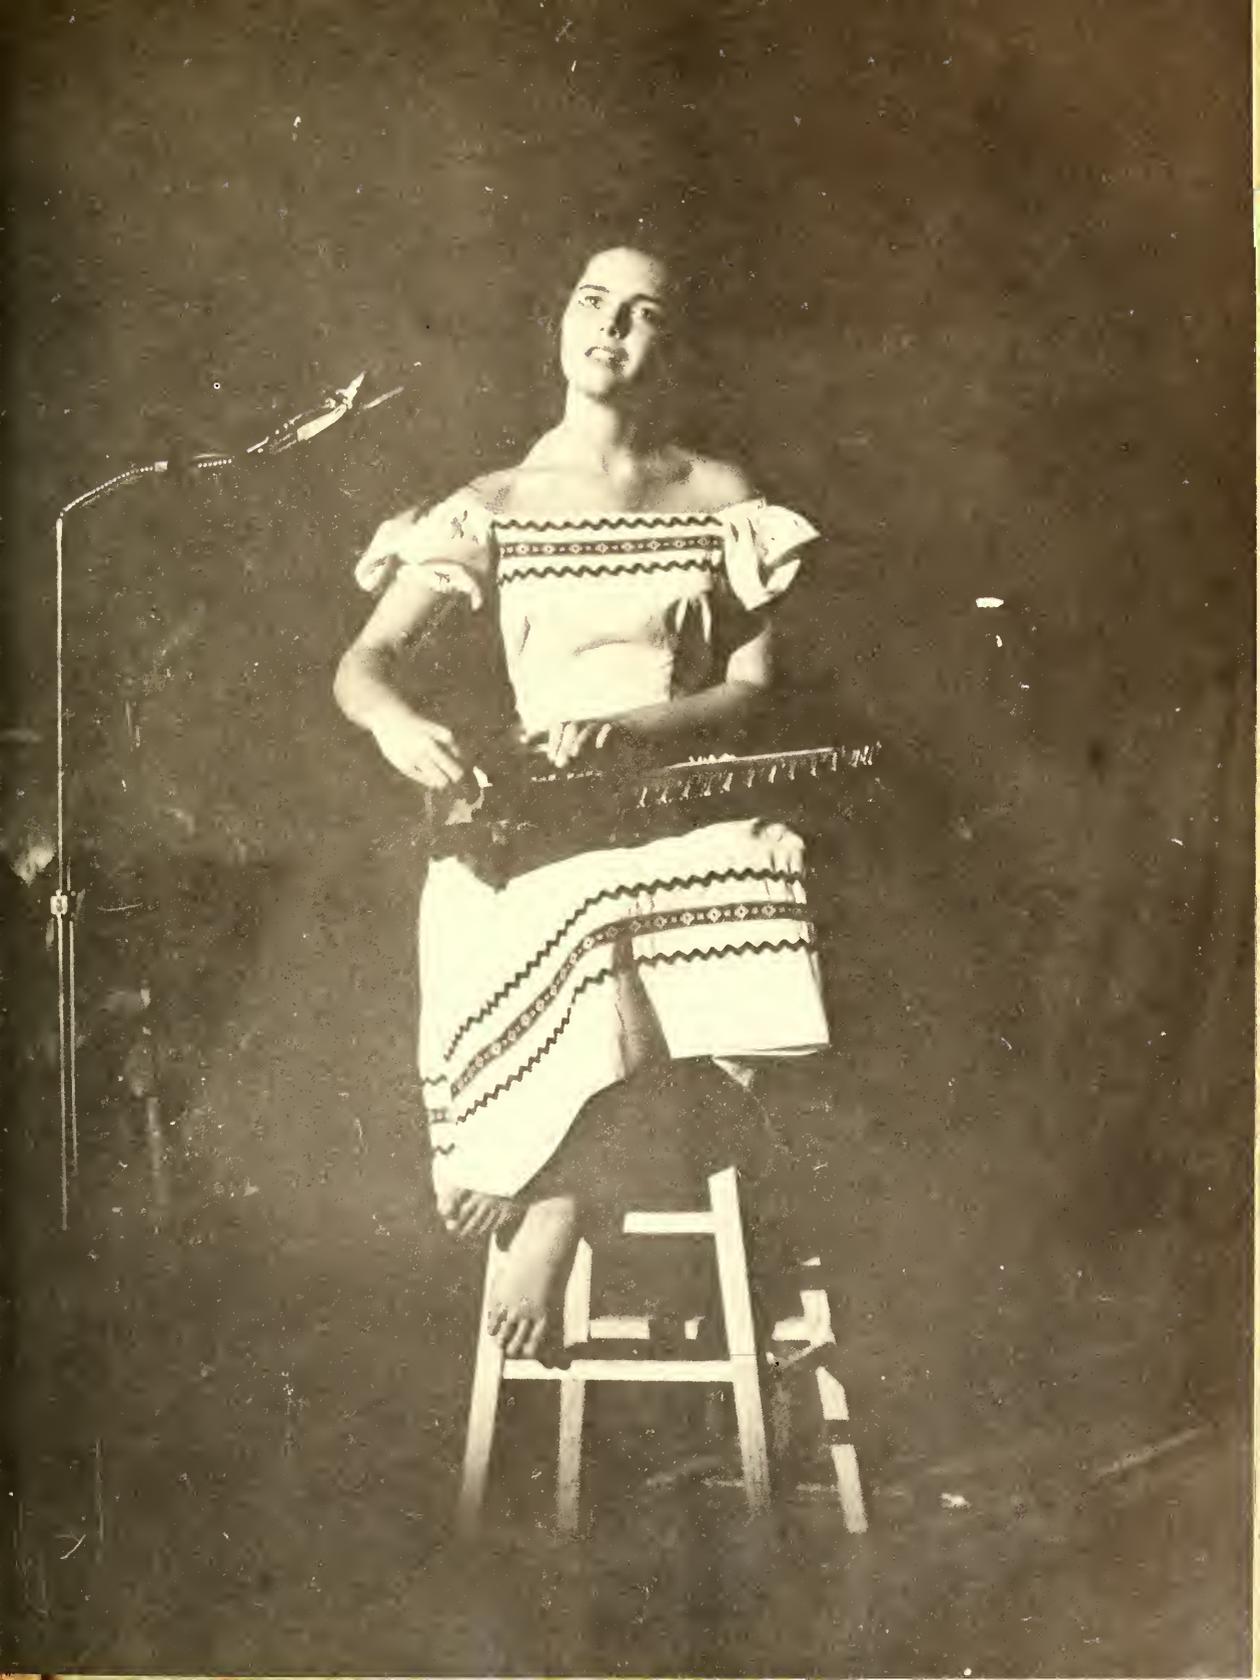

All Hail, Gold and Black!
Thy friendship ne'er lack.
For Chapel spire and spirit
Fond memories bring back.
All Hail, Pfeiffer College,
E'er faithful we'll be.
All Hail, Alma Mater,

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Sitting: Flossie Hildreth, Betty Barbee, Ann Marsh, Mary Jo Moore. Standing: Bynum Phillips, Gerry Martin, Bob Tickle, Lamar Hammett, Phil Pharr, Homer Brawley.

The Student Government Association of Pfeiffer College is one of the more active organizations on campus. Every Pfeiffer student is a member. The students are able to exercise a voice in this organization by electing the officers and representatives.

The purpose of the Student Government is to regulate all things pertaining to the students which are not reserved to the jurisdiction of the Deans, and to promote the best interests of the individual student and the school by co-operation with the staff and the faculty.

Secretary Marsh answers questions for Freshman Goodman.

Student officers and Dean Whitley welcome new arrival.

Lamar Hammett
President

Comprised of the officers, two representatives from each class, and the presidents from the Men's and Women's Student Government Associations, the Student Council acts as a center for co-ordinating the other governmental organizations, and endeavors to promote understanding between the student body and the administration.

The Judicial Committee is composed of Student Council members. It acts on violations of the college rules and regulations not designated to the Men's and Women's Student Government Associations and on any case referred to it from either of those organizations.

During the school year, the Student Government Association sponsors numerous recreational activities. In addition to the annual Washington Ball, one of the highlights of the college social life, the SGA sponsored many dances, Coaches Appreciation Day, and possibly their biggest project—Friendship Week. This eventful week included visits by the students to each other's dorms, a sock hop, a pillow party, and a faculty talent show.

Philip Pharr
President

The Men's Student Government Association proposes to create a strength of unity among the men students of Pfeiffer College. Its function is to regulate conduct under the authority of the college while stimulating a greater sense of responsibility. The MSGA is assured complete co-operation of the Deans, faculty, and staff in promoting the interests of the individual and furthering the aims of the college.

The Men's Student Government Council is composed of the officers of the MSGA, presidents of the men's dormitories, and representatives from the men day students.

The Sundial is an honorary organization of Pfeiffer College. Its membership consists of students who show outstanding qualities in four major phases of college life—social, religious, cultural, and aesthetic. The purposes of the organization are to stimulate a keener interest in scholarship, develop the qualities of citizenship and leadership, and promote a wholesome interest in extracurricular activities. In the fall of this year the Sundial sponsored the Harlequin Ball. The motto of the club, "Friendship is like the eternal rays of the sun," expresses the true spirit of fraternity among the members.

CHRISTIAN LIFE COUNCIL

Bobby Griffin
President

The Christian Life Council is the regulating committee for the campus-wide religious program. Its functions are the formation of policies regarding the religious life program on the campus, the coordination of activities of all the religious organizations, the direction of all inter-denominational and non-denominational activities, and the promotion of Christian atmosphere on the Pfeiffer campus. The Council is composed of representatives from the various religious groups.

The Christian Life Council has sponsored a mid-week vesper service for each dormitory, directed the annual Religious Emphasis Week, promoted Holy Week Services, co-operated with the Albemarle District Vocations Conference for young people, which was held on the campus, organized a campus-wide campaign for raising funds to assist Indian-Theological students, and sponsored campus wide social and recreational activities during the year.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION FELLOWSHIP

The CEF is an organization for those particularly interested in the field of Christian Education. Its purpose is for fellowship and the sharing of ideas useful in this field.

A service of installation was held in October for the newly pledged members. Other programs have included the visit of a Director of Christian Education, who discussed her job in terms of a profession, a presentation of methods for use in teaching in the Church School, and the folk game festival, one of several recreational nights planned during the year.

For the first time, the organization has adopted an official emblem and has taken as a project the securing of membership pins.

The Missions Club of Pfeiffer is composed of students who are interested in the mission field, either as a vocation or an avocation. The club focuses its attention upon the different aspects of missions. Varied and interesting programs are offered to acquaint the members with the opportunity for mission work in both overseas areas and the home field.

During the past year, the club undertook several service projects, one of which was providing Christmas gifts for the children at the Ethel Harpst Home in Georgia.

A pilgrimage to the original site of Pfeiffer College, in the mountains of western North Carolina, was a trip that will be long remembered by all participating members.

The Student N. E. A. of Pfeiffer College is a chapter of the state organization and is affiliated with the National Education Association. Striving to keep its members well-informed of new developments in the field of education, the club members take part in various programs and projects throughout the year. During the past year several delegates were sent to the State Convention in Raleigh.

At the monthly meeting held during American Education Week in November, the club honored the faculty members and presented them with corsages. The entertainment was provided by Mrs. Daniel Sain's kindergarten. Other activities included a spaghetti supper and selling ladies' hosiery as fund-raising projects.

Two-to-one that's a girl on the other end, and Editor Jones is not conducting News business.

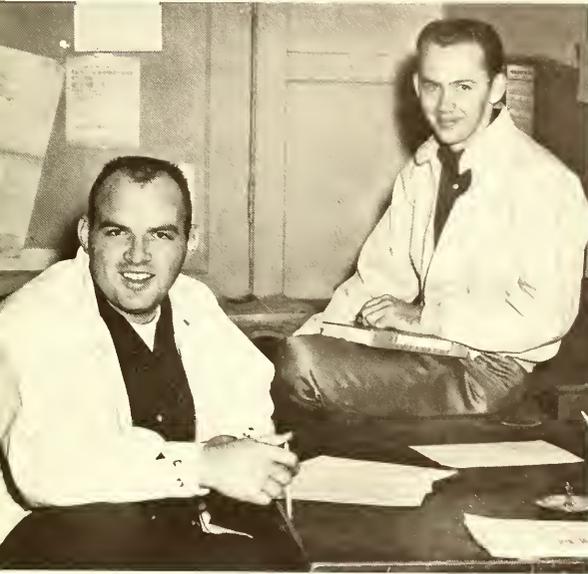

News Staff Found Frantic

A Monday night visitor to the "inner sanctum" (i. e., the News room) would probably immediately pronounce the entire group insane. He would hear shouts of "Why can't we afford coffee?" and then a darkly muttered "Scrooge!" That would probably be Pauline Griffin, assistant editor, as she belabored business manager Wayne Beachum about the funds. From another corner Robin Clark, in her capacity as news editor, would be explaining to a freshman reporter, "Yes, dear! I know that you don't like tulip bulbs, anyhow. But when you cover a meeting of the Tulip Planters, International, you don't write a news article beginning, "The silly old fools spent ten hours planting tulips. You do see?" Editor Tom Jones would be seen with his august feet propped up on his genuine mahogany-veneer desk mumbling incoherently, "We've got to get organized."

But the visitor might learn that the 1960-61 News staff, with mostly inexperienced but capable people, had published during the year more issues (by 100%) and more pages than ever before; that it had heightened reader interest with follow-up coverage and lively columnists; and that the photographic work had been made more cosmopolitan. And he would learn something about the tremendous amount of time that a weekly publication exacts from the unpaid but willing Pfeiffer News staff members.

Smilin' photographers Louis Allen (L) and Tom Meacham, assistant, get set up for work.

Business manager Wayne Beachum (L) and assistant Don Walser practice those ad-getting smiles.

Assistant editor Pauline Griffin takes a break (average length: two hours) from News work to pooh-pooh an idea. Thus: . . .

Tic tac toe

Editor Edith Christy managed to find order among the confusion and to the amazement of all concerned, a pattern began to emerge.

The staccato of typewriters under the able fingers of Joan Anderson and her staff mingled with the quiet tones of Rick Neal as he patiently explained layouts to the uninitiated.

Al Capehart and his business staff hounded local merchants about the advantages of a "full-page spread" over a "quarter-page spread."

Organizations, headed by Ann McKenzie, Features, under Jane Sidbury, and Administration and Faculty, directed by Linda Kiker, gathered information and pictures, taking precautions that no one be overlooked. The job of arranging individual Class Pictures fell to Norma Bennett and her harried crew.

"Gabe" Goebelbecker and his able helpers poured endlessly over scores, averages, and background information, seeking a clear and uncluttered portrayal of Sports.

Copy had to be written and edited. Under the combined talents of Diane Thompson, Charles McManus, and Cary Cagle, the hazards of grammar and style were assailed.

This organization attempts to help its members become more proficient in their field of endeavor and to help them gain a wider knowledge in the many fields of creative effort. The programs consist of speakers from various departments and the oral reading of the submitted work of members.

One of the major projects of the club during the year is the publication of the college literary magazine, The Phoenix. This magazine is composed of the creative writings and art of the student body and is published semi-annually. The issues for the year of 1960-1961 were edited

YOUNG DEMOCRATS CLUB

The young Democrats Club is a very active organization of the Pfeiffer campus. Its membership consists of students who believe in the policies and platform of the Democratic Party.

During the past year, well-known speakers discussed matters of national and local political interest at semi-monthly meetings. Senator Bell was among the many prominent speakers.

A trip was made to Salisbury by the Y. D. C. to hear Vice-President Lyndon Johnson, and several members received invitations to, and attended, the state and national Inaugural Balls.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS CLUB

The Young Republicans Club, an organization in its tenth year, promotes free discussion of contemporary political issues. The club's long-range objective is the training of future Republican leaders for all areas of the country. To help achieve this aim, many leading Republicans of this area have addressed the club at its monthly meetings. The Pfeiffer Young Republicans are affiliated with the National and State Federation of Young Republican Clubs.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The Lettermen's Club, established in 1948, is open to those who have received varsity letters at Pfeiffer and have the approval of the sponsors and the administration. Its purpose is to develop better campus conduct and improve personal relationships both on and off the campus.

Annually the Lettermen's Club sponsors the Christmas Dance and such activities as the selection of the cheerleaders and the selling of concessions at basketball games. This year the Lettermen's Club distributed the Alumni Association membership cards and with the cheerleaders co-sponsored a dance to raise money for new cheerleading uniforms.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association, under the leadership of Mrs. Joan Tolbert, helps to promote a sense of unity among the girls' dormitories at Pfeiffer College. This unity is achieved through the intramural program which offers a wide variety of team and individual sports. Each year the club participates in the production of the May Day Pageant.

P.E. MAJORS CLUB

The Physical Education Majors Club is a vital part of all campus athletic events. It draws its membership from interested students who are thinking of a career in physical education or the related fields. The functions of the club are to provide leadership for student intramural and recreational activities on campus and to promote inquiry and study of a professional kind.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cercle Francais, organized to promote among Pfeiffer students greater interest in the French-speaking peoples, their language and customs, advanced in increased membership and in greater variety of activity. This year the club sponsored a French Christmas service and a French Easter program. Activity features of the club were a trip to Charlotte for dinner at a well-known French restaurant and a continued recreational program.

The Pfeiffer College Science Club was organized for advancing interest in the natural sciences. Its membership consists of members of the student body, faculty, and students and teachers from neighboring communities.

Through its affiliation with the Collegiate Academy of the North Carolina Academy of Sciences the club is often able to include speeches by guest professors in its programs, in addition to addresses by members of the Pfeiffer faculty.

During the past year the club participated in two field trips sponsored by the Collegiate Academy. The first was made to the Duke Marine Lab for a Collecting tour; the second, to a tobacco plant in Raleigh for a tour of the laboratories. The annual spring picnic was held at Happy's Lake.

The Executive Council

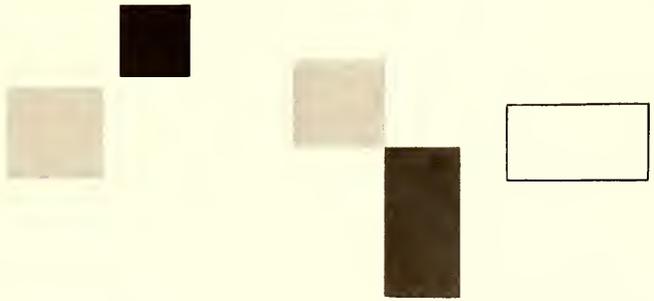

The nineteen-sixty-one season was a big one for the newly reorganized Pfeiffer Playmakers. After electing Blair Beasley, Ann McKenzie, Bill Brown, and Judy Threatte as officers of their organization, the Playmakers immediately got underway with their first production of the year, Tennessee Williams' The Glass Menagerie. Following this initial success was John Van Druten's Bell, Book, and Candle.

For the Christmas holiday season, the Playmakers assisted the Charlotte Opera Company in its production of Amahl and The Night Visitors. Subsequently, a one-act play, One Man's Moon, by Dennis Savage, was produced in cooperation with the Religion Department of the college.

The fourth play, a major production of the season, was Accent on Youth, a three act comedy by Simon Rapelson. For the Fine Arts Festival in April the Playmakers presented The Crucible by Arthur Miller. The play, a dramatic portrayal of the Salem witch trials, brought the '60-'61 season to a powerful and dramatic end.

SOCCKER

Although Coach Nicholas Lefko's Falcons dropped their first game to Washington and Lee 4-0, they bounced back to take VMI 5-4. U.N.C. proved too strong for the Falcons in a 4-1 decision.

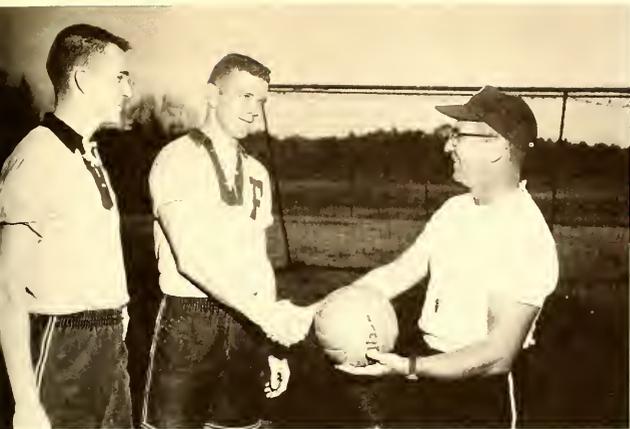

Then, having gained enough experience to make themselves one of the soccer powerhouses in this area, the Falcons topped a strong N. C. State team 5-4, clobbered Belmont Abbey 7-0, and took Davidson 1-0 on a penalty kick by Captain Baldwin, in one of the finest defensive games of the season. Appalachian felt the fury of the Falcons as they were trampled 3-1. Belmont Abbey, smarting from a previous Pfeffer rout, was smashed again by the high flying Falcons by the score of 3-0.

A repeat of an earlier defensive game with

Davidson saw the Falcons drop a tightly contested game 2-1. In the final game of the season, a fired up Blue Devil team thrashed the Falcons 8-0.

An overall record of 6 wins with 4 defeats saw Pfeffer emerge as a team to be reckoned with in future seasons. However, the Falcons will be hurt by the loss of co-captain Denny Baldwin and his fine defensive play. Goalie Sid Jones kept the soccermen alive with an average of 21 saves per game and 33 saves in the final games against Duke. The two leading scorers for P. C. were Huh and Pfeffer who between them scored half of the total goals.

Bruce Hayes and Pudge Ayers, played able soccer throughout the season and are expected to be major threats in upcoming contests.

Coach Lefko congratulates co-captains Bob Taylor and Dennis Baldwin on an outstanding season.

BASKETBALL

Coach Francis Essie, faced with a rebuilding job of tremendous size, built his first team around eight men: three freshmen, four juniors, and only one senior. Guard Vince Hoch, the only senior in the lineup, steadied the team with his deliberate style of play. Bob Frank, out until after Christmas with a knee injury, came back to supply the needed "big man" to pull in vital rebounds. Forward Bill Claypoole, shooting one of the most accurate jump shots P.C. has ever seen, was a persistent double column man on a team that was often deficient in a co-ordinated offense. Hal Stealey, back court man, fired the squad with his aggressive brand of ball, while Hal McManus, fledgling Falcon, demonstrated increasing skill in every game. Henry Johnson another fledgling, proved to be an excellent defensive ball player and probably will develop as a real threat on the front court. With a little more seasoning on his 6'6" frame, sophomore pivot man Larry Greene promises to be a real asset as an offensive-defensive man.

Losing only one man from the first squad, the Falcons are likely to have a strong combination next year.

FROM COACH ESSIC . . .

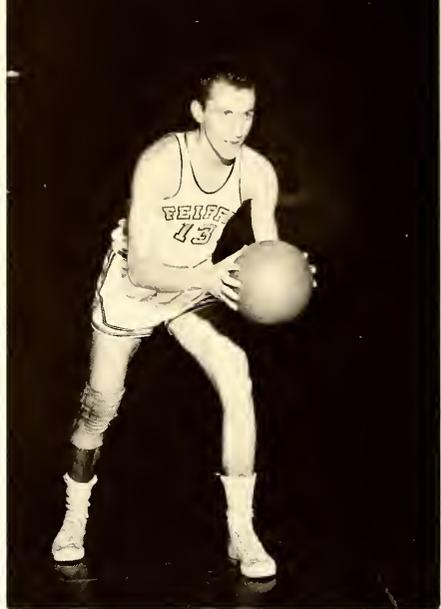

"The team has shown great courage and determination and if things had gone our way we could have three or four more games in the win column. Several things hurt us throughout the season, but we cut our point-loss margin almost in half this year. The boys are continually improving and I expect that we haven't yet reached our peak. Recruiting should help us next year and I hope to have a contender for the 1961-62 season. We've become stronger throughout the year. We try to give every team a respectable game."

BASEBALL

Coach Joe Ferebee's Falcons turned in one of the best records in the state last year, winning 16 games and losing six. Although Pfeiffer played only five games with North State Conference teams, a creditable 3-2 record was established against the type of competition the team will be playing this year.

Strong men for the Falcons were Tom Jamieson and Brack Bailey, two Greensboro Daily News College All State selections. Pitcher Jamieson, who is unbeaten in college competition, had a 1960 record of six wins, no losses with an E.R.A. of .48. Tending the sluggers was OF Brack Bailey with six home runs and a strong .424 season Batting average.

Pfeiffer's record is doubly impressive when the statistics are carefully examined. The Falcons out-scored their opponents by an average game margin of 9-5, while accumulating a team batting average of .336.

FROM COACH FEREBEE ...

"The team shows strong potential in defensive play and overall speed; but the loss of Bailey and Searcy has taken the long ball hitter from our line-up. Therefore, our run production will be hurt. Our pitching should be good although Jamieson's loss leaves us without a real 'stopper.' I know East Carolina and Catawba are the conference teams to beat, but I think we might be one of the better teams in the conference."

FENCING

The introduction of fencing to Pfeiffer brings a touch of the middle ages to the campus.

Originally used for self-defense, fencing has developed into a modern sport requiring great skill, precision balance, and lightning reactions.

Mr. Richard Jackson, Pfeiffer librarian, and Jim Hamilton, the more experienced member of the group, spent long hours working with Mike Little, Dave Howell, Dave Zerby, Tom Entenza, Dave Taylor, Rick Neal, and Al Capehart striving for perfection in a sport where excellence is par.

A unique organization, the team is in actuality a club, formed with the purpose of presenting the ancient art of fencing to Pfeiffer students with the ultimate aim of developing fellowship and a bond among its members.

The club adopted The Talons, representing the claws of the Pfeiffer Falcon, as its official name.

Next year promises great things for Pfeiffer's newest team, The Talons.

TRACK

Because of inadequate facilities and the necessary number of participants, Pfeiffer has ended varsity intercollegiate competition in track and field events. However, Coach Nicholas Lefko is optimistic about individual performances in future N.A.I.A. combined meets.

The 1959-1960 season saw Pfeiffer suffer several defeats as they met teams representing the North State Conference. Although the Falcons were defeated in a triangular meet with Elon and Guilford they showed good potential at the District 26 N.A.I.A. Track and Field Meet. After several close matches Pfeiffer lost in the final events to a more balanced Guilford team, but stellar performances were turned in by Bruce Hayes and Bill Claypoole.

Field events were the team's strength. Pfeiffer usually produced high scoring in the discus, javelin and shot put. Bob Taylor and Bruce Hayes scored well for the Falcons in the broad jump and high jump. Ken Conners worked hard on his pole vault event and probably will develop more this year. Jack Wiglama and Buck Kindred gave strong supporting roles in the field events and Tony Philmon brought Pfeiffer 10 points in a surprise appearance in the Falcon lineup against Guilford.

Coach Lefko hopes to form the nucleus of the '61-'62 track team with the help of the Intramural Program this spring. Qualifying men will be offered the opportunity to participate in conference matches on the basis of their performances in Intramurals. With a core of proven athletes, Lefko hopes to find a strong team next year.

TENNIS

Jim Blakeney

Pfeiffer should enjoy an impressive 1961 season as the first four men on the 1960 team return to lead the Falcons. John Stokes, considered the most improved player on the squad, is a four year veteran of the nets and promises to have another good year. Barry Magee, New Jersey ace, has one of the most powerful serves in the conference and should cause his opposition plenty of trouble while Bob Davis, another Yankee migrant, plays a fast, hard game, often completely bewildering his opponent. Jim Blakeney, always a threat, rounds out an impressive array of Falcon tennis talent.

WRESTLING

The ancient sport of wrestling has become one of the most popular spectator sports at Pfeiffer College. Coach Wallace Martin's matmen compiled an unbeaten season, marred only by a tie with Southern Conference member, Davidson. Glenn Welborn and Red Gabriel lost no individual matches, leading the squad to an impressive record.

As this season progresses, Pfeiffer has scheduled several matches with Atlantic Coast Conference teams and has been willing to wrestle anybody, anywhere, any time. The Falcons showed well against tremendously strong teams from U.N.C. and N.C. State.

Against Southern Conference teams, the Falcons made poorer showings but improved their overall performance with each month. Coach Martin, well pleased with individual performances, hopes that this season's experience will strengthen his squad.

The top men of the 1960-61 season include Don Gabriel, returning letterman in the 147 lb. class; Bob Ascher, a powerful heavyweight; Charles Abel, the only unbeaten member of this year's squad; and Captain George Conger, who wrestles in the 177 lb. division.

GOLF

Coach Francis Essic, in addition to his position as basketball mentor, is coaching one of the strongest golf squads in the North State Conference. Pfeiffer is rated a strong contender for the conference championship after a strong 1960 season. Returning lettermen Bob Lisk and George Skomsky will provide an almost unbeatable one-two threat on the links. A strong underclassmen contingent promises to give valuable support in the remaining positions on the team. Badin Country Club will again be the scene of match play as Pfeiffer plays host to North State Conference teams.

INTRAMURALS

The Intramural Activity Program is reaching maturity here on the Pfeiffer campus. The program has become a total student effort in that it is student organized and student directed.

The primary function of Intramural Activities is to promote an extensive program of voluntary competitive and recreational activities for the entire student body. To meet this requirement the W.A.A. and P.E. Major's Club offer a variety of sports that include football, basketball, volleyball, softball, and such individual sports as tennis, ping-pong, track, and golf. The program is open to both students and faculty, and Intramural Activities are among the most popular spectator events on campus.

Regular and judicious participation in these activities permits the individual to acquire and maintain muscular strength, coordination, and endurance; to make new and lasting friendships; and, most important, to have fun.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

However able the administration, faculty, and student body of a college, they cannot achieve success without the vision, encouragement, and support of an enlightened and dedicated Board of Trustees.

The impressive strides Pfeiffer has taken in recent years have been possible because the trustees of this institution have confidently accepted this "trust" with imagination and enthusiasm.

FROM THE EDITOR....

Working with the 1961 Chimes has been an experience that will endure long after most of life at Pfeiffer College has slipped from my memory. There was much to learn: contracts to be signed; decisions to be made on each detail; questions to be answered; and the deadline to be met in order that the delivery date might not be postponed. The Chimes became an integral part of my life for a short while.

This page has been set aside in acknowledgment of the people with whom I worked, and without whose assistance this yearbook would not have been possible.

With deep appreciation I commend the yearbook staff for submitting both the time and the talent to the objective of a better Chimes in 1961.

A special note of gratitude is due Al Capehart and Rick Neal. Al and his business staff raised the largest amount of advertising revenue in recent years, making possible the biggest yearbook ever produced here. Rick Neal, spent many long hours bringing to the '61 yearbook what we believe to be one of the best layouts in Chimes history.

My thanks to Mrs. Gerry Moore for her willingness to help in any way that was needed.

And, I would like to thank Dr. Leidig. His encouragement and understanding, efficiency and competence have provided the impetus which was essential to the realization of the Pfeiffer College Chimes.

Of primary concern to each yearbook editor is the photography. This year we were fortunate to have Mr. Paul Hepler of Rural Hall to do the greater portion of the informal photography. This he did at both personal inconvenience and financial sacrifice. Louis Allen was generous in allowing us to use many of his pictures as well as doing a considerable amount of printing and enlarging forms. Other generous donors of photographs were Mr. William Reasonover, Dr. Lloyd G. Lowder, and The Pfeiffer News, under the editorship of Tom Jones.

The financial situation was greatly enhanced by the assistance and advice of Vice President Walter I. Gibson.

Mrs. Mary McQuinn was gracious in granting us the use of the parlor of Merner Dormitory, often at times not altogether convenient to her.

To the representative from Delmar Printing Company we owe a note of gratitude. Mr. Frank Fleming worked with us carefully and devotedly.

Most of all, a humble thanks to Pfeiffer College. As my four years here reach a close, I am increasingly aware of my indebtedness to this institution.

Edith Christy
